

Commencement Exercises Scheduled For July 24

Faculty Changes

Jesuit Faculty Changes Listed

See Page 4

Faculty changes at Loyola include the addition of three Jesuit Faculty members, the Rev. Arthur A. North, S. J., the Rev. Vincent F. Beatty, S. J., and the Rev. William M. Davish, S. J.

Fr. North returns to Loyola after seven years to assume the position of Dean of the Evening School, succeeding the Rev. John E. Wise, S. J.

Former Chaplain

Before taking over his present position, Fr. North was Dean of Scranton University, Scranton, Pa. He served as a chaplain in the United States Army, spending three years in the Pacific theatre.

While a professor at Loyola, he taught religion and history.

Scholastic At Loyola

Fr. Beatty is also a former Loyola instructor. He taught chemistry and was moderator of the Sodality from 1940 to 1943, at which time he entered Woodstock College to study theology.

Ordained a priest in 1947, Fr. Beatty passed his Tertianship at St. Robert's Hall, Pomfret Center, Conn.

Holds Library Science Degree

Fr. Davish, who has just completed his Tertianship at Our Lady of Martyrs, Auriesville, N. Y., is a student of library science.

He received his B.S. in Library Science from the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C.

Three Leave Faculty

Among the Jesuit Faculty, three members have been transferred to other schools. The Rev. John E. Wise, S. J., former Dean of the Evening School, has become Dean of Scranton University.

The Rev. William V. Herlihy, S. J., has also gone to Scranton, where he will take charge of the Religion Department. Mr. John J. Burns, S. J., has departed for the Catholic University to continue his study of chemistry.

Dr. McHugh Also Leaves

The Rev. John J. Scanlan, S. J., and Mr. Myer F. Tobey, S. J., are attending classes at Fordham University during the summer, and will return to Loyola in the fall.

Dr. William H. McHugh, former Professor of Education and Psychology, has left to work for the Radio Corporation of America.

Banquet Marks Start Of July Senior Week

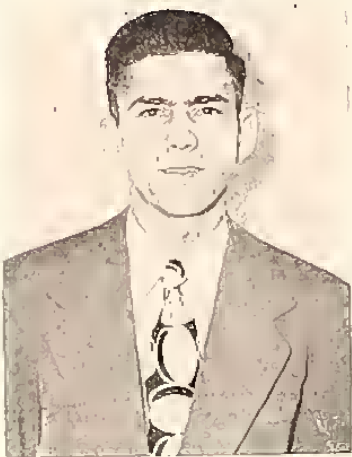

The July '49 Class began its Senior Week by holding a banquet at Haussner's Restaurant on Wednesday, July 13.

A five-course dinner was served at the price of $3.50 per plate. Approximately 100 Seniors attended the banquet.

The Senior Ball, which concludes the week of social activity, will be held at the Hotel Emerson on Friday, July 22.

The July Senior Week Committee circulated pledge sheets to determine how many would attend the social functions.

U. S. Senator To Address Graduates; Edward Shea Will Deliver Valedictory

Edward F. Shea

One hundred seventy-one July Seniors will receive their degrees at the Second Session of the Ninety-ninth Commencement, which will be conducted on the lawn before the Faculty House on Sunday, July 24, at 6:00 p.m.

Also to be graduated are four Evening School students. In addition, a Doctor of Laws Degree, Honoris Causa, will be awarded to the Hon. Dr. Francis J. Myers, United States Senator from Pennsylvania, who will address the graduates.

Mass In Morning

The Baccalaureate Mass will be celebrated at the Church of St. Ignatius Loyola at 9:00 a.m. The Rev. Martin L. McNulty, '09, Pastor of St. Cecilia's Church, will be the Celebrant.

The Very Rev. J. Joseph Bluet, S. J., President of Loyola High School, will preach the sermon.

Shea Valedictorian

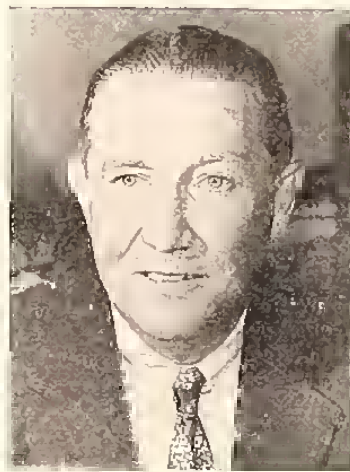

After the invocation by the Rt. Rev. William Mackessy, '14, who will represent the Most Rev. Francis P. Keough, D. D., Archbishop of Baltimore, Edward F. Shea, Jr., '49, will deliver the valedictory. Following this, Dr. Myers will address the assembled graduates.

As in the First Session, which was held on June 5, Mr. John E. Sweltzer, '28, will serve as Chief Marshal; Dr. P. Edward Kallenbach, '42, as Faculty Marshal; Mr. Louis C. Roche, '18, as Marshal of Alumni; and Mr. Lingard I. Whitford, '27, as Marshal of Guests.

Glee Club To Sing

Under the direction of Mr. Felice Iula, Assistant Professor of Music, the Loyola College Glee Club will sing Veni Creator Spiritus and Magnificat at the exercises.

Numbering 299 graduates, the Ninety-ninth Commencement is the largest in Loyola's history.

President To Attend Pageant At Midland

The Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola, will attend the pageant and civil and religious ceremonies commemorating the tricentennial anniversary of the Jesuit Martyrs of North America at Martyrs' Shrine, Midland, Ontario, from July 27 to 31.

During his visit to Midland, Fr. Talbot also hopes to engage in further archeological work in the Huron country.

Recently, Fr. Talbot served as a judge in a national essay contest sponsored for high-school students by the Order of Elks. Other judges were Dr. Harold E. Stassen, President of the University of Pennsylvania, and Rabbi Samuel Belkin, President of Yeshiva University, New York City.

Fr. Talbot also discussed his latest book, Saint Among the Hurons, on an A.B.C. network program on June 29.

Saint Among the Hurons went into its second printing early this month, when the 5000 copies of the first printing were exhausted.

Chapel News

The Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola College, has given assurance that construction of the Loyola College Chapel and Auditorium will begin this autumn.

Plans for the Chapel, which are being drawn up by Mr. Lucien Gamble, will be completed in early September.

The new Chapel will be situated at a point adjacent to Charles Street and just below the level of the Science Building. It will face the Faculty House and will have two entrances, each on a separate level. The lower-level entrance will lead to the basement auditorium.

Hugh A. Meade, Alumnus, Dies

The Hon. Hugh A. Meade, '29, former Representative in Congress from the Second Maryland District, died in Washington, D. C., on Friday, July 8.

Mr. Meade was general counsel to the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee at the time of his death.

Graduated in 1929

Born in Netecong, N. J., on April 4, 1907, Mr. Meade received his primary education in that town. Upon the death of his parents, he came to live in Baltimore with an aunt and uncle.

Continuing his education at Loyola High School, he was graduated in 1925, entering Loyola College the same year. He received his B.A. degree from Loyola in 1929.

Secretary To Gov. Ritchie

Mr. Meade got his LL.B. degree from the University of Maryland Law School in 1932. Thereafter he became secretary to the late Gov. Albert C. Ritchie.

He was elected to the Maryland House of Delegates in 1931. Later he resigned this position to become supervisor of assessments for Baltimore City.

Mr. Meade served as a (j.g.) in the Navy during

The Loyola College Glee Club, shown here at its concert of May 23, recently participated in the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary meeting of the Associated Male Chorus of America, held in Baltimore. The club and the Baltimore and Ohio Men's Chorus were hosts to the group.

Graduate Work Inaugurated At Loyola

To overcome an urgent need for Catholic graduate studies in the Baltimore area, Loyola College opened her graduate program in the field of education to 39 Baltimore teachers on June 27. It was announced by the office of the Rev. Arthur A. North, S. J., Dean of the Evening School.

Nine of the teachers are from religious orders, while the remaining 30 are from public and private schools.

Features Seven Courses

The graduate program leads to an M.A. degree in Education.

Some of the seven courses offered during the summer session are Methodology of Educational Research, Workshop in Secondary School Methods, Character Education, and Case Study in Counseling.

To Continue Next Year

This program will continue during the next school year on Saturdays, at which time seven additional courses will be offered.

Graduate studies were organized by the Rev. John E. Wise, S. J., former Dean of the Evening School, in co-operation with educational authorities from the Baltimore area.

Glee Club Host At Festivities

The Loyola College Glee Club, together with the Baltimore and Ohio Men's Chorus, served as co-host to members of the Associated Male Chorus of America when that group assembled in Baltimore for its Twenty-Fifth Anniversary meeting on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 8-10.

Delegates from choruses in all parts of the United States attended the three-day convention.

Attend Dinner

Registering at the Lord Baltimore Hotel on July 8, the assembled members were taken for a sight-seeing tour of Baltimore.

They then convened at the Deutsches Haus for dinner and an evening of entertainment, movies, singing and refreshments.

Bay Cruise On Saturday

The delegates sailed to Annapolis aboard the S. S. Lutrope on July 9. After a tour of the Naval Academy grounds, they returned to the Maryland Yacht Club, where they had dinner.

After dinner there was a singing session by the glee clubs from Maryland and the District of Columbia area. Dancing followed from 9:30 to 1:00.

Joined Last September

The Loyola College group joined the Associated Male Chorus of America last September.

They attended the annual singing fest of the Middle Atlantic Region in White Plains, N. Y., last May.

Combined Efforts

The Student Council, under the leadership of its new president, has taken great strides during the Spring Term towards bettering student-Faculty co-operation and understanding. Perhaps it would be more accurate to say that the Council has provided the means by which two very active groups coordinate their combined efforts.

The appointment of Council members and Faculty volunteers to committees has facilitated this mutual discussion of problems. Committees were formed to consider a new cut system, a freshman-senior questionnaire and freshman orientation. The full results of the endeavor will not be known until next Fall, but preliminary reports manifest a careful investigation of each problem and present plausible solutions to current Council discussions.

The plans for freshman orientation are worthy of immediate attention. The committee hopes that Freshmen will be imbued with a genuine school spirit during their first days at Loyola. They have made a number of arrangements directed to achieve this purpose.

Certainly, the Council has established a precedent which should be followed in the future. Next year may bring even greater accomplishments as a result of combined student-Faculty effort

Laurels and Cautions

Upon the completion of each school year the editor of a college paper must sit at his typewriter and issue sermons of praise and caution which will eventually disappear amid the vast heap of knowledge, unlooked-for, unheard and unneeded. This will undoubtedly be the fate of this startling treatise on human nature. It is my job and I shall continue.

Sincere congratulations should be extended to the members of this year's graduating class. They have reached the climax of a long and enjoyable sojourn at college. After all, that's more than can be said of those who are left behind.

As for the rest of the student body, there remains the solemn and traditional word of warning—a warning issued so often that there would seem to be more truth in it than a student is willing to admit. Does freedom from the books mean complete freedom from the atmosphere of dignified restraint which a person feels when attending a Jesuit college? Are the roads to the resorts, swimming pools and vacation retreats devoid of regulated conduct? There is no need for a tortuous ethics course to discover the answer to this practical question. With each student travels an invisible companion—his education. This education presents the answer and takes away the need for any further belaboring of the topic.

Of course each man who has attended Loyola this year should stop and give thanks for this privilege of receiving higher education which is not only informative but also ethical. He owes his gratitude to those who have made his education possible as well as to the instructors and administrators who have effected it.

It has been a successful and profitable year, and as the recent valedictorian of the class of May '49 pointed out, "It is well that we should have been here."

Condolences

THE GREYHOUND, on behalf of the Faculty and student body of Loyola College, extends condolences to the family and friends of former Congressman Hugh A. Meade, '29, who died recently.

Who Makes Hits
Out Of Songs?

by Larry Davis

Who determines the life of a popular song? The public or musician? To the public must go the credit for establishing the song as a hit, for no musician, no matter how often he plays the song, can popularize it if the public just does not go for it, regardless of its musical worth. Such songs as Handful of Stars recorded by the late Glen Miller and Trust in Me, although very lovely songs, never gained the favor of the public. On the other hand, such songs as the Music Goes Round, etc. and the present Huckleback, despite bitter exclamations of disgust from musicians, became definite hits because the public made them so.

However, it is the musician who keeps a song alive after the public in its usual fickle manner has forgotten it. At almost any dance you will hear the wondrous beautiful strains of Laura, the mournful pleadings of Body and Soul and the hopeless despair of Ghost of a Chance. Why? Simply because one of the musicians likes the number, and although the public has not requested it, the song is usually well received. A unique case has been the revival of the "he-bopper's bible", How High the Moon. It was brought back by musicians, but the public has restored it to hit proportions. The test then of a truly great song is that it pleases both the public and musicians.

Intramural Softball Play Ends On Informal Note

by Gerry McCormick, Sports Editor

Despite the earnest efforts of Larry Smith to give it at least an outward appearance of order, the intramural softball league finally degenerated into the inevitable confusion.

As the weather turned hotter, the swimming pool and the shady tree lined prospective players away from the sweltering ball diamond; frantic team-captains, finding themselves without a team, simply picked up as many, and as good, players as they could find on the spur of the moment.

As a result, many of the "ringers" began to play day after day, and for several different teams.

Informal Methods Prove Popular

However, the participants, carefully overlooking the breach of the rules, seemed to enjoy the more informal games as much as when the regulations were observed. Many of the games were featured by umpire-baiting, horseplay and, occasionally, good ballplaying.

The ultimate champions, Antisdel's Artillery, deserve a special word of praise since they had to face a virtual all-star team in some of their contests, due to the popular practice of 'padding' teams with ringers.

Zedalis Ready For Big Season

Indicative of his fine spirit, Mike Zedalis still works out almost everyday, even though the recent spring basketball practice has ended. The popular cager looks very sharp and should have a terrific season next year.

Coach Lefty Reitz seems to be emphasizing height in his plans for future teams; several of the most promising freshman prospects are well over the six-foot mark.

Freshmen Track Prospects

Track Coach Bill McElroy is busy laying plans for next year's cross-country season. In addition to the returning lettermen from this year's squad, he is well pleased over some freshmen prospects for next year.

Two of these former prep school stars, Tom Volatile and Joe Paszek, showed up very well in this spring's High School Invitation Track Meet at Evergreen.

Block L Club Has Outing

The sports year culminated at the recent Block L party with a softball game which was won by the Faculty. A trophy (?) was accepted by Fr. Arthur on behalf of the winning squad. However, the losing team, composed mostly of the famed "Fat Men", claimed that there was a discrepancy in the score keeping.

The game was called when all of the balls were lost, four of them having been hit into the bay.

Alumni Bowling League Ends; Class Of '48 Takes Crown

The Loyola College Alumni Bowling League wound up their campaign on Tuesday, May 24, with the team representing the class of '48 capturing the crown in the fifth and final round. Only those who howled at least sixty games were eligible for the prizes awarded by the league for high average, high game, high set, etc.

The high average prize was taken by Carroll Feeley with a lusty 103.26 average and the high game was rolled by Joe Burus, who sprawled the pins for a boisterous

149. Jim Turner rolled the high set for the year with a creditable 378.

The Association held its annual banquet on June 2 and prizes were awarded after the banquet.

Winners of the individual rounds:

First Round — Jan. '43.
Second Round—tie between Jan. '43 and Oct. '43.
Third Round—May '40.
Fourth Round—May '42
Fifth Round—tie between May '48, May '42 and Jan. 43.

Athletic Banquet Fetes Greyhound Lettermen

by Franny Meaglier

One hundred and sixty athletes were feted by the Athletic Department at its annual awards banquet June 15 in the Gym. Festivities were marked by cuisine finery from Slater System, by the awarding of

Captains Named

In elections held at the recent A.A. banquet, the following men were chosen to captain Loyola's athletic teams for the 1949-50 season: for Soccer, Nick Kropfelder; Cross-Country, Jack Brunk; Wrestling, John Mercaldo; Basketball, Mike Zedalis, and Swimming, Jack Blondell.

In the voting for captains of the spring sports teams, Skip Barry was elected field leader of the Lacrosse team, Frank Linardi of Baseball, Jack Cronin of Golf, Jerry Laroque of Tennis, and Walt Smyth of Track.

All of the men elected have had at least two years of competition in their sports behind them, while Jerry Laroque and Jack Cronin served as captains of their respective squads last year and Nick Kropfelder held a co-captaincy of the Soccer team for the 1948 campaign.

In addition, all are seniors, and their elections came as fitting recognition of the qualities of leadership and sportsmanship displayed by these men.

monograms, sweaters and individual awards, and by the election of team captains.

Monograms were awarded in all sports; forty men received award sweaters, having earned varsity letters two consecutive years. Each of the forty-nine participants in Loyola's four championship teams received a special award. The members of Loyola's greatest basketball team were given handsome engraved trophies. The champion soccer players, swimmers, and tennis players were given engraved pendant insignia of their respective sports.

A life-size action photograph of Jim Lacy was unveiled as a tribute to his world record achievement; Jim's picture will be hung in the Gymnasium.

Vince Bagli, capable publicity manager, sports announcer and athletic supporter, was justly attested for his work by an unprecedented citation. Vince received an attractive cigarette lighter and case.

The new custom of electing team captains at the awards banquet was instituted and the captain-elect were announced.

A note of humor was injected by Gus Gilbert's imitation of the Bill Dyer Show and by Bill Dyer's return imitation of the same.

Antisdel's Win Intramural Diadem

by Ed Ward

The Antisdel's Artillery nine captured the intramural softball crown by establishing an unblemished record of nine wins and no losses. This well-balanced team encountered its toughest competition when they squeezed out a 2-1 victory over Larry Smith's Outlaws.

The Antisdelites boasted an airtight infield with Bill Carroll on first base and Frank Linardi on the keystone sack. Ed Hagerty covered short-stop and Jerry Laroque held down the hot corner. On the mound Chuck Beecherl pitched all nine victories with an earned run average of less than two per game.

Flawless Outfield

Handling the catching chores was team captain Ed Ward, while Harry Shock, Ev O'Brien, Frannie Fleck and Mike Zedalis roamed the pastures almost flawlessly.

Medallions will be presented to each member of the winning team by Franny Mueller, who is in charge of intramural sports.

Socs Take Second

Second place honors went to the Socs, a team composed mostly of Greyhound varsity soccer players. This squad, led by captain Nick Kropfelder, John Gantz, Duke Kerr, Carl Eckels and Tom Russell, suffered its only loss to Antisdel's Artillery by a 14-2 score.

The Antisdel-men clinched the crown in an important last-week contest when they knocked off Paul Dempsey's Amboys by a score of eight to four.

Meet The Faculty:

Father North Appointed Dean Of Evening School

Rev. Arthur A. North, S. J., returned to Loyola last month as Dean of the Graduate Education and Evening School of Loyola College after an absence of eight years.

Fr. North, a native of New York, came to Loyola in 1939 after completing his studies in the Society of Jesus, receiving his A.B. at Fordham, his M.A. from Boston College and S.T.L. from Weston College, Boston. At Loyola, he was appointed Student Counselor and Professor of Religion and History.

At the outbreak of the war, he was commissioned as 1st Lieutenant in the Chaplains Corps, December 21, 1941, and reported for active duty several weeks later. He was in the first American contingent of ground forces sent to New Guinea.

Four years later he left Tokyo as Lt. Colonel to return to the states. He was appointed head of the new Philosophy Department at the University of Scranton, where he taught for three years. During this time he also completed his studies at Fordham U. for a Doctorate in Political Science.

In June 1948, he was appointed Dean of the University of Scranton where he remained until this year when he was appointed Dean at Loyola.

19 Attend Reunion For Class Of '29

Nineteen members of the Class of '29 attended the twentieth Anniversary reunion of their graduation at the Stafford Hotel on Saturday, June 15, 1949.

The Rev. Thomas J. Murray, S. J., Dean of Students at Georgetown, attended the dinner. Fr. Murray who taught the group Sophomore English, was elected to honorary membership in the class some years ago.

Besides Baltimoreans in attendance, Philip T. Syherl, now working in Orlando, Florida and Bernard T. McGowan, a bank examiner from Worcester, Mass., also were present for the dinner.

Four Students Will Attend Catholic Action School

Four Loyola Students, Edward J. McNeal, John V. McMann, George J. Strohecker, Edward P. Phila, will attend the annual Summer School of Catholic Action this year at University of Fordham.

The session, lasting one week from August 15, will feature discussions on various phases of Catholic Action. Plans will be offered to stimulate the activities of individual chapters.

Among the guest speakers for the session will be Rev. Daniel A. Lord, S. J.

News In Brief

Mr. and Mrs. Michael T. Vohrile, Jan. '49, are the parents of a 7½-pound boy, John R., born on June 12, 1949.

Warner G. Welsh, Jan. '50, will be married to Miss Gene H. Knull on Saturday, August 13, 1949, at 10:00 a.m. at Blessed Sacrament Church. Welsh is majoring in Business at Loyola.

Miss Helen J. Carolan, a graduate of Seton High School this past June, was recently employed as secretary to the Placement Bureau. Miss Carolan majored in Business at Seton.

William J. Dempsey, ex June '50, was recently engaged to Mary Theresa Coughlin. They plan to be married in the Spring.

The second Annual Autumn Ball sponsored by the Evergreen Club will take place on September 16, 9 'til 1, at the Menzar. Price is $2.40 per couple.

Exam Regulations

Final examinations for the school year, 1948-49 will take place next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 20-22. All students are eligible for exams except those who are overent in the subject.

As in the past, all students whose marks in a subject are 90% or above, are exempt from taking the final examinations.

Condition exams will begin Thursday, July 28, for those who fail the final exams. All persons having an average of below 65% for both the exam and the semester incur a failure and must repeat the course.

Students absent for any reason from the Term examinations will take a deferred exam at the usual rate.

All grades will be mailed to the home of the student as soon as compiled. They may also be obtained from the professors.

Numerical Or ABC Marks Subject Of Student Poll

In response to recent student questions concerning the use of the ABC system instead of the present numerical system, THE GREYHOUND recently questioned several students on the problem.

Which do you consider better, the ABC system or the numerical marking system and why?

"I have never been able to understand how an instructor can give one student an 84 and another an 85, thereby deeming one inferior to the other. A mark should not be an absolute value; it should be an indication of rank, a comparison of one student to his classmates. Human intelligence is far too complicated a thing to be measurable within 1% error." ROBERT GARY, May '50.

"I am against the ABC system. It is not a fair system since a student who has an A may possibly have anywhere between a 90 and 100. Give credit where it is due." GEORGE FOBLE, July '50.

"I prefer the ABC system of marking because it is difficult to reach any exact numerical grade in most subjects. The alphabetical method allows some leeway at the same time places the student in a general category of Excellent, Good, Fair, etc." DR. WILLIAM D. HOYT

"Personally, I prefer the numerical marking because it gives the student a closer approximation of what he is doing." EDWARD P. McDERMOTT, July '50.

"It seems to me that the letter system is preferable. Marking tests, especially subjective tests, is largely a matter of judgment. It is easier, therefore, for the instructor to decide whether a student's work deserves an A or B than it is to award a 90 or 89." EDWARD F. SHEA, July '49.

Committees Report At Council Meeting

The three committees of the Student Council made final reports for this term at the meeting of July 12.

The Committee on the Cut System presented a list of suggestions to the President, who promised to bring it up at the next Faculty meeting.

The Freshmen Orientation Committee has reached an impasse due to the possible appointment of a Freshmen Dean for next year who would have to pass on all suggestions.

A Senior-Freshmen questionnaire is nearing completion and will be ready for the incoming Freshmen class in September.
